MOTORIST DIES IN WRECK

DIRIGIBLE, "LOS ANGELES" COMING HERE

GIANT BLIMP WILL VISIT AT LOCAL AIRPORT CHAMBER TOLD

Congressman Murphy Secures Promise of War Department.

WHISTLES TO BLOW

Craft to Take Part in Ceremonies at Uniontown, Pa.

Giant dirigible, "Los Angeles" will come to East Liverpool Thursday afternoon for ceremonies which will be conducted at the Chamber of Commerce airport in Madison township, it was announced today.

Comes From Uniontown.

The dirigible, which will leave its home station at Lakewood, N. J. Wednesday night, is coming west to take part in the dedication of the Floyd Bennett airport near Uniontown Thursday morning, then proceed to East Liverpool in the afternoon.

Arrangements for the visit of the dirigible to East Liverpool was made by Congressman Frank Murphy, who made a special trip to Washington over the weekend to file the request with the war department. Secretary H. B. Barth of the Chamber of Commerce, wrote the war department Friday asking that the "Los Angeles" be sent to East Liverpool at the same time that the Uniontown trip was being made.

Congressman Murphy carried the request to Washington Monday morning and yesterday afternoon a wire was received from the congressman to the effect that the blimp would proceed to East Liverpool after the Uniontown ceremonies.

The dirigible is expected to arrive here early in the afternoon and after circling over the city for a short time will go to the airport where it will remain for about two hours. The craft will not land at the airport but will fly close to the ground where it can be viewed by those on the ground. The dirigible cannot be landed except to airports possessing a mast. The craft is expected to leave on the return trip to Lakewood late in the afternoon.

SOLONS ORDER BUILDING OF TRUNK SEWER DOWN DRY RUN

New Line Will Provide Connections for Klondyke.

SEEK CITY DUMP Salary Increase Voted Chief Water Works Engineer.

Legislation calling for the construction of a trunk sewer emptying into the Ohio River at Dry Run, providing sanitary sewer facilities for the Oakland and Klondyke sections, was ordered prepared at the regular meeting of city council last night.

Need for the new trunk line was found after residents of Globe street, east of Wedgewood avenue, submitted a petition asking for sanitary sewer improvements. A survey by City Engineer Clapsaddle showed that because of the lay of the ground it would be impossible to connect with the main line which runs down Pennsylvania to Mulberry street.

"Stakes." Green, who offered the motion, said the city solicitor be instructed to prepare legislation for a trunk sewer leading along Dry Run through "Marshall's Flats," pointed out that the entire Oakland and Klondyke section would be provided with sewer connections into this main line sewer.

Attorney Frank Grosshans, who appeared before council, said that the city engineer be requested to set the grade stakes in Springfield street, which thoroughfare is to be graded and curbed. He stated that it had been reported that the grade of this street had been changed and that property holders who requested the improvement wanted the grade before the improvement was started. City Engineer Clapsaddle was directed to set the grade stakes.

Attorney Harry Brokaw, who represented Mrs. Helen Wheeler, Riverside park, asked that the city compensate his client for the roadway which he claims passes through her property near the West End school. The matter was referred to the streets committee for investigation. Request for a change in the grade of an alley leading off Garfield street was also referred to this committee for investigation.

To Improve West Alley. Attorney Harry Brokaw, who represented Mrs. Helen Wheeler, Riverside park, asked that the city compensate his client for the roadway which he claims passes through her property near the West End school. The matter was referred to the streets committee for investigation. Request for a change in the grade of an alley leading off Garfield street was also referred to this committee for investigation.

Residents of Harker avenue submitted a petition asking for the grading and surfacing of that street between Pennsylvania avenue and Sylvan avenue. The ordinance committee was instructed to bring in the necessary legislation. Petition for the narrowing of the sidewalk on Orchard Grove avenue between Fairmont street and Cone alley in order to permit property owners to construct retaining walls, was also passed, the clerk being informed by merchants.

SMITH DEFENDS HIS RECORD IN LEGISLATURE

New York Governor Strikes Back at Kansas Editor.

HITS CLERGYMAN

Nominee Blames Attack on Republican National Committee.

By RAYMOND I. BORST.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Convinced that he has completely shattered William Allen White's charges that he is morally unfit to be the president of the United States, Governor Al Smith today anxiously looked forward to his notification ceremony set for 7 o'clock tomorrow night, when he will formally launch his campaign for the presidency.

Opponent to Immorality.

Declaring that his record "as an opponent of immorality is fixed and secured," the Democratic nominee in a formal statement, charged that White and the Republican national committee has pursued a "cowardly" course in attempting to picture him as a friend of the saloon, gambling and prostitution.

While the governor did not mention Dr. John Rosch Stratton by name, he told friends that his reply to White also could be taken as an answer to the New York city clergymen's charge that he was the "dealest foe in America today to moral progress."

"I am glad to have this matter taken out of the whisper stage and put into the open; once and for all I shall meet it now," the governor declared. "I regard it as purely political and when the campaign begins, I do not propose to have the issues of that campaign bogged down by controversy over irrelevant things, such as the discussion of my votes as a legislator some twenty or more years ago."

Cities Letter From Minister.

White charged that Smith when a member of the legislature, always voted to protect the saloon, gambling and vice. Before he sailed for Europe recently the Kansas editor retracted that part of his charge relating to gambling and vice. Subsequently, however, through Henry J. Allen, publicity director of the Republican national committee, he withdrew the retraction about gambling and prostitution.

Within one hour, a public man can address practically the entire population of the United States. All will hear him distinctly, and listeners 1,000 miles away will hear his words before they are heard by men 100 yards away, in the crowd around him, because electricity travels more quickly than sound.

What do ancient miracles amount to, compared with miracles of science?

MISSIONARIES devoting their lives to converting Chinese will be interested in the story of Field Marshal Fong Hu-Hsien, hitherto known as "the Christian General."

A Christian no longer. His story runs as follows:

As a boy, he saw father, a poor peasant, worshipping Buddhist idols.

He believed in Buddha, but when his mother died, in spite of prayers to Buddha, he dropped that god and his idols.

IT IS only fair to add that Buddha would not recognize his own religion, in China, any more than the founder of Christianity would recognize his religion, in some of our fancy churches.

STATE'S WHEAT ACREAGE SHRINKS

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 21.—Smaller wheat acreage will be planted this fall by Ohio farmers, reports to the U. S. department of agriculture, Ohio experiment station, indicate a statement issued here today.

The intended acreage for 1928 planting, as shown by Aug. 1 reports, will be 13 per cent less than that planted in 1927. The total acreage in 1927 was 2,471,000 while that planned for 1928 planting is 2,149,000.

The statement declares that for the entire United States a 2.1 per cent decrease in wheat acreage was indicated Aug. 1.

KENTUCKY MAN GETS ADA POST

ADA, O., Aug. 21.—Ernest R. Miller of Kentucky Wesleyan, has been chosen to succeed Dr. U. O. Newton as head of the department of physical education at Ohio Northern university, located here, it was officially announced today by Dr. Albert Edwin Smith of Ohio Northern.

Before going to Kentucky Wesleyan, Miller was coach at Defiance college. He will assume his duties at Ohio Northern university with the opening of school in September.

Dr. Newton, who has headed the sports department of Ohio Northern for the past five years, is undecided as to further plans, he said today.

Republicans Urged Hoover to Abandon Front Porch and Tour Country By Train

By William S. Neal.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Herbert Hoover will abandon the front porch for the train platform and carry the Republican presidential campaign directly to voters in the east if he responds to appeals which are pouring into Republican national headquarters, it was learned today.

With the statement of the eastern campaign still in the making, belief was expressed in Republican circles that the Republican nominee will make a special appeal to the voters in New York state, the home of his opponent.

The generally expressed belief of headquarters, who is said to have urged the personal appearance of Hoover in eastern states, is Hamilton Kean, Republican senatorial candidate.

POLICE CAPTURE MIDLAND SLAYER

Salvadore Maciel Held for Grand Jury on Murder Charge.

Investigation carried on by Police Chief William M. Fox of Midland, Pa., of murder a week ago today of Juan Orambula, 30, Mexican mill worker.

In the Steel city, reached a climax today when Salvadore Maciel, 28, Mexican, 424 Penn avenue, pleaded guilty to charge of murder before Justice Charles A. Kennedy.

Maciel was bound over to await grand jury action without bail. He was immediately removed to Beaver county jail in Beaver, Pa.

Search for Maciel which has been under way for a week stretched to Ohio, Sunday, when Chief Fox traced the Mexican to the home of friends in Fremont. Fremont authorities, who were notified, took Maciel in custody early Sunday night.

He was brought back to Beaver county today by Police Sergeant Harry Kleean and County Detective C. J. O'Laughlin. When grilled by officers he admitted the shooting and signed a complete confession, assigning the

DEDICATION OF PRESENTATION PAROCHIAL SCHOOL POSTPONED

Ceremonies Planned for Next Sunday Delayed Until Early in September—Franciscan Sisters to Teach.

MIDLAND, Pa., Aug. 21.—Dedication of the new Presentation parochial school now nearing completion in Penn avenue has been postponed until early in September, because of delay in finishing the structure, the Rev. J. A. Breen announced today.

Original plans set the dedicatory ceremony for Sunday, August 26.

Despite the postponement Father Breen stated that the school would be open September 4 when term begins. "Our building may not be quite finished as far as furnishings are concerned, but the doors will be open to approximately 200 pupils September 4," he said.

He also announced today that the

MARBLE CHAMPS

MIDLAND, Pa., Aug. 21.—James Radeski, left, won laurels as marble champion of the O'Ginney playground in Seventh street. Radeski won his title by defeating a half dozen other contestants in the final heats of the tournament.

Jerome Morris, right, who was runner-up in both marble and horseshoe pitching tourney, won the latter contest after being defeated by Radeski for the marble crown.

Both tournaments were staged by Playground Director Alex Della Valle as part of the program of activities arranged for the several hundred children who daily use the playlot in the summer.

Renovated White House Awaits Return Of Chief Executive

WASHINGTON.—A spick and span White House awaits President Coolidge upon his return from his Wisconsin summer vacation.

All the rooms in the mansion have been cleaned and renovated. The drive leading to the executive offices has been widened to permit more room for automobiles. Formerly the big cars had to back to make the turn to the entrance.

At President Coolidge's direction, a saving of nearly $18,000 has been effected in the renovating work by using paint to freshen the walls and woodwork instead of a special cleansing preparation.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Speculative enthusiasm at the beginning of trading today found its principal outlet in the public utility stocks and high-priced mercantile and specialty shares. Bullish pools whipped up prices aggressively in National Power and Light, Public Service of New Jersey, American Waterworks and other well known utility stocks that have been dormant since their last outbreak in May.

Once again Wall Street heard that the "big bulls" would abandon money market considerations and the effects of high call loan rates.

In the certainty of a more favorable turn of events here later in the year, American business cannot progress under the present scale of artificially inflated interest rates, according to the bulls, who expect definite steps to be taken to reduce the charge on commercial credit.

Aggressive buying of Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward forced prices of these stocks about five points higher. Sears Roebuck reaching a new high at 139. Union Carbide and Carbids, Postum, American Agricultural Chemical, Victor Talking Machine and Warner Brothers Pictures moved up sharply under the stimulus of aggressive pool operations, with some measure of outside buying helping the process along. The tobacco stocks added a few points to yesterday's advances as reports of good business reached the financial district.

Call loan renewals were posted at 7 per cent, against yesterday's opening rate of 6 per cent. Cotton advanced 25 points in the forenoon as the result of short covering and trade buying. Local commodity markets were firm.

Real Farm Problem

There apparently is a concerted effort being made to persuade the farmer that the protective tariff is the cause of his worries. Actually, of course, and as most farmers long have realized, the protective tariff preserves for them an unequalled home market, without which the agricultural condition would be deplorable, as it was under the Wilson tariff from 1894 to 1897.

In those years, as many farmers recall, wheat was below the actual cost of production, eggs brought only a dime a dozen, farm mortgages were foreclosed right and left and farm properties became a drug on the market. Mortgage companies offered to sell them back to the farmer at a figure far below the amount of the original debt, because of the overcrowded condition of the market.

Unable to deny that most of the things which the farmer buys are on the free list, certain of the engines of protective tariff complain that the materials used in manufacture of farm machinery are protected.

If not only the machines that he uses, but all the material entering into their construction were duty-free, the farmer might save some money temporarily by buying foreign-made goods, but within the year following Americans engaged in the manufacture of the same kind of goods at high wage scales would have to shut up shop, with the result that the farmer would lose a great part of his market through a reduction of urban workers' purchasing power. And the market would be forever lost, unless the protective tariff were restored.

Under the existing tariff structure the home market of the farmer is as well protected as the manufacturer's home market, by duties on farm products. It is further protected by the tariff on manufacturers which maintains the purchasing power of the whole American people.

The farm problem today—the real farm problem—does not have anything to do with what the farmer buys or what the farmer sells in the home market. It concerns only what he sells abroad. The problem is to reduce and control the surplus and scientifically handle its marketing so that it shall not depress the price in the domestic market.

Clearer Roads

A large automobile club has been receiving news from many homing tourists as to the conditions of roads and other matters of interest. Automobile clubs are always glad to get this information and to disseminate it again when needed.

On one point the motorists of all ages, sexes, varieties of culture and points of view seem agreed. They dislike having advertising signs near road direction signs. They wish the latter to be clear and unconfused. And they hate the horrible hot dog signs and most of the mush-room, ugly, hot dog stands.

The motorist does not condemn the hot dog sandwich or the chicken dinner. Nor does he wish the signs entirely eliminated. It is often a great convenience to know a bit ahead that food, rooms or camping places are coming soon.

It is the ugliness with which these things are done that he despises. A neat, simple and clearly readable sign, set apart from the road signs, is all right. A decent refreshment stand set back a bit from the road, maintained in cleanliness, fills need. But neither the signs nor the stands themselves need be ugly, blatant, vulgar.

It is at least refreshing that the great body of motorists has begun complaints about them. There are now so many that competition will begin to act, and the best and most attractive stands will get the trade. The others will have to clean up and make themselves pleasant in looks and service, or lose the business.

Using The Face

Gone are the days of that calm, egg-like placidity of countenance, so long heralded as the surest preservative of beauty. If you want to save your face, use it. This is the latest advice offered in papers and magazines.

Pouting, it seems, keeps the lips full and youthful. Smiling lifts the cheek muscles. But the smile must be with lips alone—no pleasant crinkling around the eyes. Rolling the eyes is advised as the only means of exercising them. If your eyes are dull and heavy it is not from late hours, or rich food, oh, far from so. It is because the poor things are feeling the need of their daily roll. Chewing and biting, whether it be of food, or the hand that feeds you, or just going through the motions, makes for a clear-cut jaw line. Sniffing refines the nostrils.

One article suggests that all these things be done "at every opportunity, on bus, or train or car."

Thumbing the nose and running out the tongue were not mentioned, but doubtless it would be well to add these two ancient exercises as conducive to grace and freedom of expression. Standing on the head for an hour or two every day would be good, also making gravity pull the other way, for a change.

It's a fine idea, full of possibilities, and its cheapness recommends it. Why not all take it up and make faces at every opportunity? Even if the resultant beauty be less than hoped, the returns in mirth would be infinite.

Vocal Curves

A German professor has invented a machine that shows anyone's "vocal curve" and thereby, he claims, provides an unfailing method of identification. "The vocal curve never lies." Just set a person to talking, and his own special "speech rhythm" will record itself infallibly and unmistakably.

This rhythm, he says, is likewise contained in written words, so that if anyone reads from an author's works, he unconsciously reproduces the author's own speech rhythm. Thus is provided a key by which plagiarism may be detected. Try reading two pieces of writing before this clever machine, and it will show whether the same person wrote them.

Maybe so. When an American scientist can make an instrument that will measure heat waves from a candle 50 miles away, who knows what a German scientist may do?

Bring one of those machines over and try it on some of our political speakers and foreign lecturers.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 21.—One of the oldest traditions connected with American elections is that an election year is a poor business year. In connection with the forthcoming election special study has been given to this ancient tradition. This year, as never before, there are in existence in the United States organizations especially well adapted to the making of such a study. They find that the tradition is rather infirm based; indeed, that there may be good reason for regarding it as a myth.

It is the generally accepted opinion that the belief of poor business in an election year sprang from uncertainty as to what national policies would be likely to govern the country for the four years following the introduction of a changed administration. There was much more reason for that formerly than now exists.

Not so many years ago there was very sharp divergence between the Republican and Democratic parties on the tariff issue. The Republicans stood for a high protective tariff and the Democrats, at one time, for absolute free trade and later for a tariff only high enough to provide a portion of the revenue necessary to meet the expenses of running the government. This situation is altered. Many southern states, a natural part of the Democratic solid south, have developed industries which require tariff protection for their survival.

But traditions have a momentum which it is difficult to check. People still talk depression in election years and the students of the phenomenon find that whatever business recession is to be observed can be traced principally to this very talk. Election year depression is not any longer a fact but a ghost of an old bugbear.

It must be borne in mind that any nation has its business ups and downs. Some of these business cycles have come around in election years and the election year has been blamed. The chances are they would have occurred anyway. Herbert Hoover, as secretary of commerce, initiated special studies of the business cycle and brought out a report which has been helpful to business men in smoothing out the peaks and filling up the valleys.

A glance back over the last half century shows that there have been three years of prosperity to every two years of depression or recession. The presidential years have had a large share of the weak years but it is difficult to be certain whether the depression was due to the election or came as a matter of course. It is shown however, that the twelve presidential years included in the half century have averaged better than an equation representing one year of prosperity against one year of depression.

The presidential year 1880 was a year of prosperity. Others follow: 1884; depression; 1888, a brief recession not amounting to depression and immediately followed by prosperity; 1892, prosperity; 1896, depression; 1900, prosperity; 1904, mild depression; 1908, depression; 1912, prosperity; 1916, prosperity; 1920, the entire gamut from prosperity at the beginning of the year to depression at its end; 1924, mild depression.

The heat of a presidential campaign coincides largely with the heat of summer and summer is always a season of slack business compared with other seasons. This has contributed to the tradition.

The stock market is regarded as an exceptional good barometer of business conditions throughout the country inasmuch as the activity of trade and industry are bound to be reflected in the quotations of stocks based on the commodities manufactured and real in. An analysis of the campaigns since 1868 shows that in five presidential years the average prices of selected and representative stocks were lower in October than they were at the beginning of the year; that is, prices declined during the campaign. But in the eight other presidential years prices rose during the campaign and were quoted higher just before election than they had been in January.

Two outstanding examples of this index are furnished by the last two presidential campaigns. In 1920 the average price of the twenty representative stocks was $105 in August. By July this figure had declined to $91 and in December stood at $2. In 1924 the year began with an average price of these stocks of $97. By July the price had climbed to $98, by October to $102, and at the end of the year stood at $114.

In the presidential election of 1884 when there was depression in the United States, depression likewise existed in England, France, and Germany. In 1884 prosperity was moderate in all four countries. In 1896 the United States remained depressed while England and France showed considerable revival and Germany showed prosperity. In 1900 there was prosperity in all four countries. In 1904 the conditions were to be described either as mild prosperity or mild depression, according to viewpoint, but were about the same in all four countries. In 1908 all four were depressed. In 1920 the United States, England and France showed successive prosperity, recession and depression while Germany was in the depths of post-war depression. In 1924 there was mild depression in the United States and England, prosperity in France, and revival in Germany.

It will be seen that the world trends of business, on the whole, affected these four industrial nations pretty much alike. No one claims that an America presidential election depresses European business, yet the presidential years show depression here in almost all cases show similar conditions abroad.

Questions And Answers

By Frederick J. Haskin

Q. What teams will play the annual East-West football game on the Pacific coast next winter? C. E. N.

A. The teams have not been chosen as yet. The committee to select the teams has been named. The latest edict of fashion concerning garters is that they should exactly match the hose; and Rosalie is, of course, conforming to this. Not only that, but garters should now be extremely narrow, and neater and less elaborate decorations adorn them. Since beige continues to be the predominating color in hose for Fall, many garters will be in that shade. Forecasts have it that browns will predominate during the coming season, which accounts for the continuance of beige as the favorite color for hose.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Three beautiful New York girls of prominent families have been disabled for nearly a year as the result of efforts to be thin. Subsisting on a diet of acid fruits, all were victims of prolonged attacks of inflammatory rheumatism.

The craze to keep thin exists chiefly among girls between 17 and 24 years of age. Doctors say at no period in their lives are they in such need of health-giving food, and as a result a large percentage drift into wasting maladies.

Private sanatoriums are said to be filled with young girls suffering from malnutrition as a result of enforcing a rigid diet. A noted psychologist announces the only object of this starvation is the hope of being attractive and catching a husband.

150 Teachers Attend High School Institute

E. Emerson Langfitt, State Supervisor of Schools, Principal Speaker at Wheeling Meeting.

Approximately 150 teachers attended the opening of the West Virginia State High School Institute which opened a three-day session yesterday at the Wheeling high school. Address of welcome was delivered by L. E. Ewing, principal of the Wheeling high school.

Ewing outlined the purpose of such an institute, telling of the problems that would be met and solved during the brief period of the institute.

"Teachers today," he said, "are on a much higher plane than they were 20 years ago when many of the teachers stood out in prominence in the profession. Now a teacher must be more than merely good to stand head and shoulders above the rest," he added.

E. Emerson Langfitt, supervisor of West Virginia schools, was the principal speaker on the opening program.

He gave a brief but sufficient outline of the program for state high schools this coming year. In his talk he mentioned in particular that the junior high schools will receive concentrated attention of state educators this year. He said that the junior high school system has not gone forward with the success it deserves in West Virginia.

Other leaders in the field of education in this state, were included in the program of the institute yesterday morning. Addresses were heard from professor Walter Barnes, dean of Fairmont State Normal school, and E. K. Fretwell, of the Teachers college, Columbia, university. The assembly period was followed in the late morning and afternoon with class discussions of problems which confront teachers in high school work.

P. E. King, principal of Triadelphia high school, is chairman of the institute, and John H. Lazear, superintendent of Ohio county schools, is general director of the program. The institute is being held under the official direction of George M. Ford, superintendent of schools of West Virginia and R. Emerson Langfitt, superintendent of high schools of this state.

Colon, Panama, will have a new modern motion picture theatre.

STATE POLICE CHANGES MADE

New Headquarters Will be Established at Elm Grove.

An important change in the administration of the state police for the Pan Handle district, comprising Brooke, Ohio, Hancock and Marshal counties, was announced from state police headquarters at Parkersburg, on Monday.

The department announced the resignation of Sergeant Haymer of the Wheeling district and the promotion of Corporal Long of Wellsburg, to sergeant, in charge of the four counties.

It was also announced that new headquarters would be established in Elm Grove for the four counties with Sergeant Long in charge. Ten state police will be stationed at the new headquarters and will be provided with four automobiles to patrol the district and Pan Handle.

Beginning September 1 the change will be effective, it was stated, and on that date Wellsburg and Moundsville posts will be discontinued.

Sergeant Long said today that he had been informed of the change and that he would at once begin working on plans of patrol for the district with the troopers in his charge at the new Elm Grove post. Aside from the four automobiles to be provided the post, the troopers will have at their disposal four motorcycles, Sergeant Long said.

Outline Activities Of Community Nurse

Kiwanis Committee Plans Enlargement of General Welfare Work for Benefit of School Children.

Receiving a report of the summer work accomplished by Miss Martha Rex, community nurse functioning here through the assistance of the Kiwanis club, and outlining her activities for the coming school term with a view to furthering the value of a service that has already won recognition as an important factor in the successful operation of the local schools, from a health standpoint, committee in charge of the work met last night in the city hall building here.

The committee includes C. J. Vogel, Dr. G. W. McMillan, Dr. D. H. Beumont, Superintendent S. E. Daw and Dr. M. C. Tarr, city health commissioner, who is chairman.

During the summer months Miss Rex has been engaged in many activities of general interest to the community. Early in June with the assistance of officers from the state department of health and local physicians she conducted a pre-school clinic at the high school building. This clinic provided parents of school children who will enter school in September for the first time the opportunity of having each child carefully examined for physical defects of any kind.

On receiving a report from the clinic the parent proceeds to provide any corrective treatment that may be necessary before the child enters school. More than 50 pre-school children attended this clinic and during the summer quite a little corrective work has been done among them.

As this corrective work enables the child to avoid the loss of attendance during the school year, it is of great importance to both the parents and the school.

In addition to the work of the clinic the nurse has investigated all cases where tuberculosis or other contagious diseases have been reported which is a matter of protection to the whole community. The child enjoys a greater immunity from diseases of all kinds because of the presence of the nurse.

The committee plans to enlarge the work of the school nurse during the coming school year. Last spring the board of education authorized the superintendent to establish an ungraded class room for children who have difficulty with academic work but who show ability to do work with their hands. A trained teacher has been secured for such a class.

This class will be opened at Macdonald building in September. Miss Rex has just completed a visit to the parents of all children who will be assigned to this room and they have assured the school of their co-operation.

Authorities hope in a few months to demonstrate the value of such a classroom to the children of the community. Action was also taken in favor of preventive measures in the cases of such diseases as diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox and measles.

The committee decided to ask the board of education to permit giving the Schick test to school children provided the parents of these children consent to the test. This simple test determines whether a child is immune to diphtheria.

In case the child is not immune parents may decide whether an antitoxin may be administered. In many states children must be vaccinated and immunized against all contagious diseases before entering school. In this state it is optional with parents excepting times of epidemics when vaccination may be required of all children.

During the winter months the nurse will weigh at intervals of one month all children in the first four grades of the public and parochial schools. She will cooperate with the teachers of the public school in promoting the general health of children and avoiding the spread of contagious disease.

Last year the attendance record exceeded that of any record in the school history, so far as can be found.

The work of the nurse in helping children to keep well was no doubt an important factor in the improved school attendance. It is expected that the work of the nurse will be constantly widened, becoming each year of greater service and value to the community.

K. OF C. OPEN NATIONAL MEET

Pontifical High Mass Followed by Large Parade.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 21.—A mammoth demonstration of Catholic parades in downtown streets this morning preceded the formal opening of the 46th annual national convention of the Knights of Columbus in the public auditorium here.

Eight thousand persons attended pontifical high mass in the auditorium, celebrated by Archbishop Neil McNeill, of Toronto, Can. The marchers in the parade numbered 4,000, and included representatives of fourth degree Knights of Columbus from throughout the country, Knight of St. John, Catholic Order of Foresters, Catholic Boy Scouts, third degree Knights and delegates to the convention from many parts of the western hemisphere.

Following the mass, the convention was opened by Ray T. Miller, of Cleveland. William E. Hass, of Delaware, O., state deputy, presented Ohio's welcome, and City Manager W. R. Hopkins added the welcome of Cleveland. The response to these addresses was delivered by Martin H. Carmody, of Grand Rapids, supreme knight, who then called the convention into session.

Carmody declared today the order would continue to stay out of politics and would not endorse either presidential candidate.

Business sessions of the convention continue through Thursday.

AUTO CLUBS HOLD JOINT MEETING

A joint meeting of the boards of directors of the Columbian County Motor club and the Hancock County Motor club was held last night in the mayor's office, city hall, Chester.

Meeting was well attended. J. Howard Sinclair, Hanoverton, president of the Columbian County Motor club was chairman of the meeting, which was devoted largely to planning for the erecting of numerous danger signs throughout Hancock county.

The visitors were guests of R. B. Rutledge, president of the Hancock County Motor club at a luncheon at Lynch's restaurant after the meeting.

Los Angeles Coming

Fredericksburg, Germany, and brought to the United States by its builders about three years ago, flying across the Atlantic in approximately two days. It carries a crew of 36 men.

The "Los Angeles" passed over East Liverpool and Wellsville about a year ago when it was enroute to Detroit. The blimp lost its way because of a storm near East Palestine and was finally driven to southern Columbian county. Hundreds of local people saw the giant of the skies as it passed this section after dark but this will be the first time that it will be seen here during day light.

Whistles Will Blow.

The Chamber of Commerce committee today appealed to the factory owners to blow their whistles when the blimp arrives. Fire Chief Bryan has consented to blow the fire sirens in the business district for about 20 minutes. Mayor Ralph Benedict is expected to issue a proclamation today asking that flags be displayed in front of stores and homes in honor of the event.

Two Ryan cabin type planes from the New Castle airport will come here about 10 o'clock Thursday morning and will spend the afternoon in the passenger carrying business from the Madison township field.

The "Los Angeles" will be the second lighter-than-air craft to visit the local airport, the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corporation's baby blimp, "Puritan," having visited the field last Wednesday. East Liverpool is among the first of the smaller communities to be honored with a visit from the "Los Angeles."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—The navy dirigible Los Angeles was ordered by the navy department today to fly over Uniontown, Pa., Thursday during the dedication of the Floyd Bennett Memorial air field. Later in the afternoon the ship will fly over East Liverpool, Ohio, and then return to its Lakehurst, N. J., hangar.

A number of army and navy air corps officers will participate in the dedication of the field named for the navy pilot who died while taking aid to the crew of the German trans-Atlantic plane Bremen.

Resolution for the grading and paving of West alley from Fourth street to Rural lane was passed on three readings under suspension of the rules. An ordinance, increasing the salary of the chief engineer of the water works from $185 to $200 per month was passed on three readings under suspension of rules. Similar legislation, granting an increase to the chief engineer was passed by council a few months ago, was vetoed by Mayor Benedict.

Service-Safety Director J. W. Moore was instructed to replace the wooden steps leading from Garner avenue to St. Clair avenue and which were removed when St. Clair avenue was graded at this point. Moore also promised to investigate the request for the erection of a street light at the corner of Minerva street and Rock alley.

At the request of Moore council will view sites for proposed dumping grounds tomorrow night. Moore declared that the city has no public dump and that as a result vacant lots and alleys were becoming littered with cans and other rubbish.

COSTLY PROJECT

Harvey Funeral To Be Held Tomorrow

Services for Former Ambassador to Court of St. James Will be Simple According to Plans of Relatives.

DUBLIN, N. H., Aug. 21.—Messages of condolence from President Coolidge and scores of other notables reached Mrs. George Harvey today expressing sorrow at the death of her husband, former ambassador to the Court of St. James and famous as the maker of two American presidents.

The death of Colonel Harvey, resulting from heart attack, was unexpected. He had been ill for a month at his summer home here from asthma and bronchitis, but had appeared to be on the road to recovery. He was stricken suddenly yesterday and died within a few seconds.

President Coolidge sent the following message to Mrs. Harvey:

"I have just learned with profound sorrow that Mr. Harvey passed away. My close acquaintance with him for many years brought home to me his real abilities. His distinguished career as a journalist and a diplomat will long be remembered by his countrymen. Mrs. Coolidge joins me in sending sincere sympathy to you and to the other members of his family."

"CALVIN COOLIDGE."

The famous publicist will be buried either tomorrow or Thursday at Peacham, Vt., where he was born six years ago.

The funeral services will be extremely simple, according to present reports although details had not been completed early today, only a few close friends and relatives it was decided will attend the services.

Despite Col. Harvey's physical condition, he had kept in close touch with the Republican presidential campaign and had held several conferences with eastern Republican leaders during the last three weeks.

James Simpson, president of Marshall Field & Co., in Chicago, is seen loosening the first spade of earth for the $30,000,000 Merchandise Mart, the largest business building in the world. Ten miles of caissons will be used in the construction of the Mart, which will have 4,000,000 square feet of floor space.

Smith Defends Record

morality is fixed and secure." Smith wrote in reply to White. "Publicly and by many letters in my possession, the late Rev. Cannon John P. Peters, when chairman of the committee of fourteen, the leading anti-vice society of New York, repeatedly thanked me for my co-operation with that organization. No one in all of the twenty-five years of my public life has ever dared to make the vile suggestions which emanated from Mr. White, with the approval of Henry J. Allen, publicity director of the Republican national committee."

Then the governor trained his guns directly upon the Republican national committee. He said:

Attacks G. O. P. Committee.

"What a cowardly course the Republican national committee pursued. It issued a slanderous statement through its official publicity bureau and then after its general publication in the press, attempted to evade responsibility by the childish claim that it had been given out by accident. That is not fair play."

The governor asserted he was confident that the people of New York approved his legislative record or they would not have elected him four times to the governorship, something that has never been done before in the state's history. He added:

"I cannot, however, let go unchallenged the political attempt to tear down by character and reputation by seeking to align me on the side of opposition to the regulation of the liquor traffic and in favor of gambling and prostitution."

White's charge that Smith's record showed him to be a friend of prostitution drew his sharpest fire. He said this charge was based upon a bill which would have prevented the renting of a hotel room twice in one night. After pointing out that this bill, which he voted against, was first defeated and then later passed for "political expediency" by the Republican legislature, the governor wrote:

"On this bill and this single bill alone William Allen White would have my wife my children and my friends believe that in my long public career I was a friend of public prostitution."

Says Attack Was "Unfair."

After explaining each legislative measure referred to by White, the governor concluded:

"I denounce as unfair, unmanly and un-American this slanderous attack upon me and my record. I have the satisfaction, however, of knowing that it is not concurred in by the people of my own state who have year after year expressed their confidence in me, notwithstanding that a large part of this matter herein referred to was laid before them in the past by agents of my political enemies. I am sure that I am right when I say it is not concurred in by the fair-minded, intelligent people of the country."

"I have been called by my party to the leadership of a great campaign. I am hoping to be put in a position to do for the people of this country what I have accomplished for the betterment of the government of my own state and from now on I shall refuse to be drawn into any further discussion of these matters."

In formally accepting the nomination the governor's confidants predict that he will state his views so clearly on every major campaign issue that they cannot be misunderstood or misinterpreted. Prohibition is expected to be one of the high spots in the acceptance speech. The governor already has said that he will "clearly and unmistakably" express his views on this subject.

The vanguard of 100,000 Democrats, who are expected here for the notification is due in Albany today. The city already is decked out in its holiday clothes while the east steps of the capitol, where the notification meeting will be staged, have been transformed into an open air theatre.

Hammer Slayer Under Arrest In Cleveland

Police Say Prisoner Confessed to Attacks on Two Girls—Hammer is Found.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 21.—With the arrest of an alleged degenerate, who is charged with attacking two young women with a hammer on the street last night, police today were attempting to link the prisoner with the killing of Miss Katherine Madden, a trained nurse, on March 30, 1927. The Madden slaying is one of the most notorious murder mysteries here in recent years.

Miss Rose Kukta, 19, and Miss Mary Gyetke, 18, were attacked last night by a man who leaped from behind a tree, fell both with blows from a hammer. They were walking along an east side street, beside a vacant lot.

Each girl was struck once. Both were bare-headed. They screamed and passing motorists came to their assistance, while their assailant ran through the high grass of nearby lots and escaped. The victims were taken to a hospital, where they were reported suffering from scalp lacerations and shock. Both were to be dismissed today.

Detectives a short time later arrested the suspect at his home. They reported finding a hammer with wisps of hair on it. The accused man at first admitted his guilt and then denied it, the officers said. He also admitted and denied that he had known Miss Madden, they said.

Miss Madden was found, brutally beaten and unconscious, on an east side street almost a year and a half ago. She lived about four days but did not regain consciousness. Police said she was the victim of a "clubber maniac," but the crime was never solved.

FOR a while Marshal Feng worshipped snakes, but outgrew that and became a Christian. Then he went to Moscow, saw brother love in the Communistic doctrines, dropped Christianity and became a Communist.

Returning to China, he joined the Kuomintang party, adopted the three principles of the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen, first president of the Chinese republic. Those three principles supply all the religion he needs.

A PIUS missionary cannot be sure that a converted Chinese will stay saved. But that is no reason for discouragement.

PRINCETON'S scientific expedition to Patagonia, after 25 years of careful study, reports that South America and Africa were once united.

German scientists reached the same conclusion several years ago.

THE earth's surface is light, compared with the earth core on which it rests. And the earth surface, the continents that support us, slide around on the hard earth core, like butter on a hot smooth plate.

The slipping movement is slow, however, and you need not worry about your real estate. Some day it will not be where it is now, but that day is far off.

THE learned Prof. Eason of Jena University, finds that ultra-short radio waves can be useful in medicine.

He inoculated 30 mice with tuberculosis, treated 15 of them with his ultra-short waves. The 15 thus treated thrived and lived. The 15 mice not treated died quickly.

That sounds cruel to anti-vivisectionists. But to neglect experiments that might save human life is also cruel.

A GREAT nation, and good pace maker, is Canada. This year's Canadian wheat crop, 500,000,000 bushels, breaks all records. And Canadians have just dedicated a national park, in the northern part of the province of Saskatchewan, 200,000 acres in extent.

DOING things in a big way is Canada's habit, and this country is glad to have so able and friendly a neighbor.

Uncle Sam contributed to Canada's wheat growers when he dug the Panama Canal, letting all nations use it on the same terms as ourselves.

Through that canal Canadians in the Northwest can deliver wheat in Europe much more cheaply than our Middle Western farmers can deliver it.

A RUSSIAN inventor, Makhonine, has demonstrated in Paris an incendiary fuel for airplanes and automobiles.

The fuel is non-explosive, will extinguish fire when poured over it. That will interest Mr. New, postmaster general, and biggest airplane promoter in the country.

It will especially interest fliers that fear fire more than a fall.

George Green Killed

feet to the bottom of the gorge.

Indications at the scene of the crash were that the car had cleared the top of the embankment and dropped straight down, snapping of tree tops and breaking a telephone pole when it lit.

Body Taken to Chester.

Arner removed Green's body and the injured man to his funeral home in Chester, where Smith was attended by Dr. G. E. Lewis, Chester. Later he was taken to the home of his mother, Mrs. Ted Z. Smith, 1033 St. George street, where he received medical attention. His condition is not serious.

Green, a former turner in a local pottery, was unmarried. He lived with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Green, who survives him. He also leaves two half-brothers, J. M. Grafton, East Liverpool, and D. J. Grafton, Wellsville, and a half sister, Mrs. Walter Williams, East Liverpool.

Smith is superintendent of the yellow ware plant of the D. E. McNicol pottery in East End.

McElravy Brothers' wrecking crew towed the coupe to East Liverpool this noon today. The car was a total wreck.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to the many friends who assisted us during the sickness and death of our loving Mother, Mrs. Mary Hart.

Especially do we thank Rev. McCandless for his words of comfort and all those who sent the beautiful flowers and loaned their cars.

WHITING GETS HOOVER'S POST

Massachusetts Man Named Secretary of Commerce.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—William F. Whiting of Holyoke, Mass., has been appointed by President Coolidge as secretary of commerce to succeed Herbert Hoover. It was announced at the commerce department today.

Hoover's resignation was submitted to the president at Brule, Wis., shortly after the secretary's nomination as the Republican candidate.

Because of Mr. Coolidge's long delay in appointing a successor, reports had arisen that Hoover might remain in the cabinet during the campaign. This decision Secretary Hoover left to the president.

The new secretary of commerce, who is 65 years old, head of a big paper company in Holyoke. He is a lifelong friend of the president and is generally credited with being one of the three men who have brought Mr. Coolidge's political career from the very start. His father served in Congress a number of years.

The president also accepted the resignation of Herbert Hoover today.

MARRIAGE OF MISS MARY MATHews AND NEIL PATCHIN ANNOUNCED AT PARTY

Miss Elizabeth Hayes Entertains at Announcement Party in Honor of Bride.

A pretty party was given by Miss Elizabeth Hayes at her home on Carolina avenue, Chester, Saturday night when the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Jane Mathews of West Third street this city and Neil A. Patchin of Steubenville was made by miniature cards attached to corsages of summer flowers which was given each guest at the luncheon.

Bridge formed the diversion of the evening, trophies being awarded Mrs. Collin Bloor and Miss Bertha Savage. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The wedding took place in Pittsburgh, Pa., Wednesday, June 27, in the Smithfield Methodist Episcopal church with Rev. Sanford W. Corcoran officiating in the presence of a few friends and relatives. The attendants included Miss Helen Mathews, a sister of the bride, and John A. Poole of Steubenville.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school and is employed in the office of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Pottery company in Chester. She also attended the Ohio Valley Business college. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mathews of West Third street, this city.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Patchin of Cherrytree, Pa., and is employed as an electrical at the Weirton Steel company in Weirton, W. Va. He is a graduate of the Bliss Electrical school at Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Patchin will be at home to friends after September 1 at 131 West Third street, this city.

Mossor Family Reunion.

Sixth annual reunion of the Mossor family was held Saturday afternoon and evening at Thompson park. A basket dinner and supper were served. A program including baseball, races, peanut scramble and horseshoe pitching was featured, trophies being awarded the winners. Howard Bloor and W. F. Johnston formed the committee in charge of the day's entertainment. An address was given by D. M. Reese of East Palestine.

It was decided to hold next year's reunion the second Saturday in August at Thompson park. The following officers were elected: President, Luther Mossor, and secretary and treasurer, D. M. Reese.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beabout and family of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Payton and family of New Mexico; Mrs. Mary Beabout and daughter Leona of Moundsville, W. Mrs. Grant Club Hostess.

Members of the B. G. S. club were entertained last night at the home of Mrs. Amanda Grant on Newell Heights. Fancywork, music and a guessing contest formed the diversions of the social hours, trophies being awarded Miss Esther Auwaert and Mrs. Helen Dickey.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Henry Hardin, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Mildred Hardin, who were special guests of the club.

The club members and their friends will enjoy a corn roast and weiner sizzle at Newell park, Thursday, August 30. The next meeting will be held Tuesday, September 4, at the home of Miss Thelma Wilson on Grant street, Newell.

Social Events Arranged.

Social events for the week include a luncheon bridge party to be given at Wickliffe Manor, Youngstown by Mrs. J. Donald Thompson of Park boulevard and her mother, Mrs. Grantley Postles of Ventnor, N. J., on Thursday, in honor of the former's house guest, Miss Elizabeth Hawkins, of Plattsburg, N. Y., and Mrs. Hugh Briar Scott of Wheeling, W. Va., also three luncheon-bridge parties will be given by Mrs. John S. Goodwin and daughter, Miss Mary Alice, of East Fifth street and Mrs. Charles F. Goodwin of Thompson avenue, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at Quaker Inn, Salem.

Catholic Club Garden Party.

Members of the East End Catholic club will be entertained with a garden party on the lawn of the club rooms on Pennsylvania avenue and Palisay street, on Saturday night at 8 o'clock, August 25. ROYAL CANADIANS AT PARK TONIGHT

Ten years ago a slim brown-eyed Italian lad of fifteen made his professional debut as the director of a three-piece orchestra—including him—before Mother's Club meeting in London, Ontario, Canada.

Today, the director of the most sensational popular dance orchestra in the United States, famous—at the age of 25,—he commands a fabulous price for his music.

This is Guy Lombardo, leader of the Royal Canadians orchestra, which will play a one night engagement at Rock Springs park tonight. This extraordinary attraction has been booked through the Music Corporation of America, who are managing a nationwide summer tour of this orchestra.

For the past year the Royal Canadians played at the Granada Cafe, Chicago, and drew capacity crowds seven nights a week. Chicago, native city of musical sensations, has never fostered a more dramatic rise to fame than that of Guy Lombardo and His Royal Canadians. On September 1, 1927, when they went into the Granada they were comparatively unknown, in a national sense, although they had attracted marked attention in Cleveland where they had been at the Music Box and Claremont. On July 1, 1928, the orchestra left Chicago to begin its nation-wide tour under a deluge of offers at sensational prices.

A great deal of this popularity is due to the Lombardo radio programs broadcast from Stations WBBM and WJBT, Chicago, where they attracted such a tremendous audience that Guy Lombardo customarily received more than 500 telegrams nightly delivered within a period of two or three hours prior to one of the Royal Canadians' "request" programs.

There are three Lombardo brothers in the orchestra. Guy, the leader, is the eldest, and an artist on the violin. Lebert is the sparkling cornetist, and also doubles on the drums and trumpet; Carmen, the youngest, is a clever saxophonist, singer and composer. Carmen is usually heard in the vocal chorus of the Columbia records made by the Royal Canadians, and is the author of several popular songs, including "Last Night I Dreamed You Kissed Me" now being featured from coast to coast by all the big "name" bands, "A Lane in Spain," "Coquette," and "Rosette."

This orchestra of ten men has the unusual record of but one change in personnel in five years. Fritz Kreisler, the pianist, played the piano for the Mothers' Club debut at London, Ontario, ten years ago, and all the other members of the orchestra, except one American who has been added in the last year, are also London boys.

Church Garden Party Tonight.

A garden party will be held on the lawn of St. Aloysius Catholic church by members of the Altar society of the church tonight. The lawn will be decorated with Japanese lanterns. A country store, gypsy booth and other entertainments will be featured. The public is invited to attend.

Miss Helen Eck Hostess.

Miss Helen Eck entertained recently at her home on Pennsylvania avenue, East End, with cards, music and dancing. At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Irene Folk and Mrs. Katherine Woods. Those present were Misses Helen Eck, Irene Folk, Verna Standley, Hazel King, Elizabeth Clapsaddle, Rosetta Cooper, Lois Habernich and Betty G. Cash.

Messrs. Clyde Marshall, Robert Bell, Carl Russell, Grant Stover, Harold McCray, Paul Moore, Wilford Woods and Thomas Martin.

Benefit Association To Meet.

The Religious Benefit Association will meet tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in Danceland, 165 East Fifth street. Plans for the entertainment for the winter will be made.

Dailey Family Reunion Saturday.

The annual reunion of the Dailey family will be held Saturday, August 25, at Fredericktown camp ground. A program of sports and speaking will be held. Dinner and supper basket style will be served.

Class Meeting Tonight.

The Welcome class of the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church will be entertained by Harold and Clyde Downard at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Downard on Ruth avenue, East End, at 7:30 o'clock tonight. J. C. Cunningham is teacher of the class.

Attending Lodge Convention.

Mesdames Florence Wallace and Ethel Potts will represent Pride of Valley Council No. 4, Daughters of America, at the grand session this week in Columbus. They left today accompanied by Mesdames Nell Dawson, Leslie Tatgenhorst, Sadie Lentz, Mary Smith, and Miss Dorothy Dawson, who will also attend the session.

Class Meeting Postponed.

The Philathian class of the First Baptist church will not meet this evening as previously announced, the regular meeting will be held Tuesday night, Aug. 28.

Evans Slab Victor As Newell Evens Series Count

Finley's Fly in Sixth Gives Laughlin 7-5 Win

Sacrifice, With Three on and Visitors Trailing, Followed by Erratic Throwing, Decides Wellsville Tilt.

When Joe Dickey signed up pitcher "Curly" Evans, former Chester hurler, near the close of the first half of the season, thereby causing a ruckus among City league pilots and costing the West Virginians three forfeit games, the Laughlin manager must have had a hunch that Evans would eventually prove of value. At any rate he kept him despite the storm that raged about his head and last night he felt that he had played his hunch right when the curly one triumphed over Wellsville, 7 to 5, in the second game of the City league championship series.

The victory tied up the series at one apiece and, as a result, the pennant rivals will resume warfare Wednesday night at Newell in the third engagement on even terms.

Evans, as a pitcher, has the usual assortment of hooks, fast ones, etc., belonging in the repertoire of any decent flinger, but in addition seems to have some other ability of an intangible nature that acts opportunity to get him out of trouble, especially with men on bases.

But whatever it is, he had the Indian sign pretty well tacked on the first half champs' bats last night. He gave them but an even half dozen blows and his mates, as they usually do, came from behind in the sixth and last frame to win.

Laughlin scored two in the first, one in the third and another in the fourth. After marking up a single counter in the opening inning, Wellsville crashed the plate for no less than four in the fifth to go into the lead, 5 to 4, only to lose their ad-

WALKS COSTLY TO EASTON IN FIRST

CAP FINLEY'S sacrifice to deep right, with the sacks loaded, started the parade. Evans and Bobin singled, but Ranaldi fanned. Densmore, however, filled the sacks with a walk and then Finley crashed one that almost reached the boards in right. Evans counted on the throw-in. Catcher Lintner pegged to second. The ball later was picked up in center field after two more runners had crossed the scoring point.

That ended it. Hancock doubled in the next frame but was killed off at third and the next two batters fanned.

"Happy" Easton, Nicholson's south-paw star, was not pitching typical Easton ball, although that fact did not entirely decide the issue, with the Laughlin club hitting as it did.

But the evidence of "Happy's" de-facations from his customary form was discernible in the opening frame when he walked the first and the third man to face him. "Chap" Finley, leading off, was granted a ticket.

WELLSVILLE RALLIES TO TAKE LEAD

WELLSVILLE got one of them back in their half of the same inning.

After George Wagner had grounded out to Bill Merchant at first, Reese singled, stole second and scored on Cal Wagner's single. Talbott struck out and S. Wagner was thrown out at first.

The visitors collected two hits, one a double, and a base on balls in the third, but got only one run out of it all. With one gone, Watson singled and moved up as Merchant drew his second walk. Simeox then doubled over the right field fence, ground rules holding Merchant on third. He perished there as Dignan and Evans grounded out.

The West Virginians made it four in the fourth, a slushing triple down the left field line by Finley doing the damage. Bubin eked out an infield hit. Bubin then doubled over the right field fence, ground rules holding Merchant on third. He perished there as Dignan and Evans grounded out.

FINLEY UNLOADS SACKS IN WIND-UP

WELLSVILLE returned the favor in the sixth and last frame. Evans, first up, hit down the left field foul line, the ball striking the bag at third and bouncing toward the bleachers. Bubin beat out an infield hit. Ranaldi fanned but Densmore drew a walk, filling the sacks.

Missionary Describes Chinese Fire God

Dr. G. C. Hallock, Brother of Mrs. C. B. Marshall Formerly of This City, Tells of Superstitions in China.

Rev. Henry G. C. Hallock, former resident of Steubenville, and a cousin of Dr. W. A. Hobbs, of this city and a Chinese missionary worker, describes the superstitions of the Chinese with regard to the origin of fires, in a letter to the East Liverpool Review.

Dr. Hallock, whose headquarters are at Shanghai, China, is a brother of Mrs. A. B. Marshall, the Mary Hallock, former teacher in the local high school. Mrs. Marshall is now living in Bellevue, Neb., suburb of Omaha, where her husband is pastor of a Presbyterian church.

Dr. Hallock went to China as a missionary about 30 years ago and during that time conducted a publishing house in Shanghai, where he translated the Bible and published an almanac. He has made a wide study of Chinese customs during his long missionary experience. He has three other brothers who are ministers: Rev. Girard Hallock, Rochester, N.Y., a noted writer and Robert and William Hallock both of whom hold charges in New York state. He has two other brothers who are physicians.

He says:

"The Chinese fire god is Ho-zwen-bu-sah. He rules fire. When he is displeased with people he sets their houses afire. Ho-zwen is a Taoist priest, but during a great battle he changed himself into a giant with three heads and six arms. He has three eyes, one in the middle of his forehead. He has red hair and he is of a fiery disposition. He rides a fiery horse which snorts flames, and fire flashes from his h-ots.

"In the god's six hands he carries a heaven-wide flashing seal, a wheel of five fiery dragons, a gourd enclosing 10,000 fire crows, and two swords, and a thousand-mile smoke screen filled with swords of fire. No wonder he can scatter fire everywhere and do untold damage when on a rampage.

"People in whose house he starts a fire are not welcome in other homes least, in so doing, they bring Ho-zwen's wrath upon themselves also. People where a fire starts hurry to the temple and plead with Ho-zwen to leave their homes at once. When he leaves they thank him for punishing them.

"Ho-zwen-bu-sah is much feared, also because of the danger to the one in whose house the fire starts, for if it spreads to other houses and he is found, his neighbors throw him into the fire for bringing loss to them. So he runs away and is not seen again or comes back only after a long time. When the houses are rebuilt the old rubbish is put on his lot.

"You would be greatly interested to see a Chinese fire and the fire-fighters at work. Crowds of firemen come each with a long name-banner. These banners are left in line against the walls of the narrow streets near the fire. One set of men are carriers having carrying poles with a bucket on each end of the pole.

"Ahead of each carrier runs a man with a gong beating wildly to make way for the carrier as he brings the water from a creek or canal or well near by. He dumps the water into the tub of a hand-pump which forces the water up a spout on the fire. This pump working reminds one of an old railroad hand-car. Wealthy men often keep a hand-pump in their own home, but lest the fire-god give the pump work to do there is written on it, "Be-r-peh-yong"—prepared but may it not be used. A fire in China is a noisy, exciting and very primitive thing in its method of extinguishing, but fierce in its burning.

"While the fire is burning sometimes theatricals are held on the street. These are to please the god-of-fire and get him to go back home. At other times, when people fear troubles are coming, they buy a paper image of the fire-god and burn false money, incense, and candles before it and then burn the image itself. This is sending him home with spending money and fragrance to keep him from starting other fires.

"I asked the Chinese if the fire-god lit a recent fire on a ship. They answered, 'If there was a fire on the ship the fire-god must have been there at work.'

"We have towers in Shanghai where men watch for fires. When one is discovered the fire-bell is rung. When the old Custom House was built a large clock was placed in its tower. For some weeks after this clock began to strike the hours there were few if any fires. The Chinese said it was because the fire-god thought that every time the clock struck there was a fire announced so he could rest without helping.

"All these things seem ridiculous to us but are very real to the Chinese. Chinese life and atmosphere is church full of such superstitions. Chinese are never free from them and the anxiety they bring—like a superstitious man forced to pass the night in a haunted house. When the gospel comes the believer goes free. For he knows the truth that makes free indeed."

TELLS DYSPEPTICS
WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meat digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the bisurated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

ELYRIA WINS
LEGION DRUM
CORPS CONTEST

Winners Get Silver Cup and Trip to National Convention.

PARADE IS HELD

MacNider, Donahey and Others Address World War Veterans.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 21.—Members of the American Legion holding their state convention here this week were scheduled to "get down to business" today after a gala day of band contests, parades and stunts yesterday. Between 10,000 and 12,000 Legionnaires are visitors in the city.

In the drum corps contest yesterday following the parade, Elyria post No. 12, won, and O'Brien post No. 326 of Shelby was awarded second prize. The Elyria drum corps was given a silver loving cup and Shelby musicians a silver plaque.

The real award for winning the contest will be the trip to the national convention of the American Legion at San Antonio in October with all expenses paid by the state organization.

Among the speakers at the legion sessions yesterday were Hanford MacNider, former assistant secretary of war and past National commander of the American Legion; Gov. Vic A. Donahey; Major Dennis E. Nolan; Judge E. S. Mathias, Ohio supreme court; and John McClay, state commander of the G. A. R.

Donahey Warns Legionnaires.

MacNider told the legionnaires that they should not have so many objects in view, but to concentrate on one or two for with a large number "we make enemies without helping our own cause."

Gov. Donahey assured them that "the bloody hand" of politics would be kept out of the situation at the Xenia soldiers and sailors home.

The legionnaires yesterday took over the entire downtown section of Columbus. It was practically impossible for motorists to get within half a

PRINCE OF WALES PROVIDES MODEST FLAT FOR AGED MAID OF GRANDMOTHER

Mrs. Anna Giltrap, 75, Years of Age, Will Spend Remainder of Her Days in Comfort.

LONDON.—After living for 40 years amid the magnificence of palaces, Mrs. Anna Giltrap, a little gray-haired woman of 75, has settled down in a modest London flat obtained for her by the Prince of Wales to dream away the rest of her life in memory of the British royal family.

Her memories will be mostly of the late Queen Alexander and her grandson, the Prince of Wales. She was the late queen's dresser for over 35 years.

The prince obtained her flat for her when he knew that "Grannie's Maid," as she is known to the younger members of the royal family, was in failing health and reduced means.

He has visited her small apartment several times to take tea and talk over old times.

"It was pleasant living in those palaces," Mrs. Giltrap told an interviewer. "I lived in all of them at different times, but I thought Marlborough House (residence of the late Queen Alexander) was the best of them all."

Sir Ofori Atta, chief of Akim Ahanta, Province of West Africa, with his suite recently visited the United Free Church offices in Edinburgh, Scotland, where he was presented a Bible, he having received his early education through missionaries of the church.

Average daily sales of the coal syndicate in the Buir district of Germany have been 227,700 tons recently.

At Home with the Famous

IT HAS often been said, "Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown"; but kings and queens have always been provided with luxurious beds and bed-chambers. Their sleeping quarters have been furnished differently than that of the ordinary mortal, and only a few privileged characters were ever permitted to peer into the bedroom of a monarch or his queen. Time and time again hoi polloi must have wondered how gorgeously and elaborately the chambers of a king's palace were outfitted. Then there were the four-post bedsteads, crystal chandeliers, heavily carved and Italian marble-topped mantles, needlepoint chairs and priceless gobelins and art. It is certain that the beds were as downy as possible and the coverlets of the finest silk obtainable. Usually the beds were covered with heavy draperies which provided complete seclusion even within the rooms. This old but very valuable bed, in which Queen Elizabeth of England slept when she visited Rushbrook Hall, Suffolk, is in the principal guest room.

Head of Goddess
Found by Diggers
Near Constantinople

CONSTANTINOPLE.—A large part of a statue showing the face of a colossal head of a goddess has been found in the excavations which are being made here by the Archaeological Expedition of the British Academy. The excavations are nearing their conclusion.

The head of the goddess which has just been unearthed is of Panticel marble and it is a Greek work of the best style. It is believed to date from the fifth century B. C.

It appears that the main building which has been revealed as a result of the excavations was the end of a forum attached to the Hippodrome. This was known to have been situated behind the Kathisma, between the palace and Saint Sophia.

EAST LIVERPOOL HAS ONE TELEPHONE FOR EACH SIX PERSONS REPORT SHOWS

East Liverpool has a ratio of one telephone for each six inhabitants while Liverpool, England, for which the Ceramico City is named, has one phone to each 23 inhabitants, according to figures which have been issued by Frank Swaney, local manager for the Ohio Bell Telephone company.

This city, with a population of approximately 26,000 persons, has 4,744 telephones while Liverpool, England, has 49,061 stations for its 1,126,000 persons.

East Liverpool has more phones than the entire South American country of Ecuador which has 4,518 stations. Plymouth, England having a population of 212,000 persons has but 5,150 telephone subscribers slightly more than this city.

A notable feature of American telephone development is the large number of telephones in the smaller towns and the rural districts, Swaney points out. In communities of less than 50,000 population in the United States there are 12 telephones per 100 people, which means that the residents of the smaller American communities are better provided with telephones than are the residents of most of the larger cities of Europe.

Ohio's 1,200,000 telephones are more than the total number in all of France, Italy and Spain combined, as shown by figures for those countries in the telephone and telegraph statistics of the world, which has just been released for publication.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Physician's Discovery Reduces It Quickly and Dizzy Spells Disappear.

Thousands who have dizzy spells, sleeplessness, nervousness, shortness of breath, pains in the head and impaired energy have been told by physicians or insurance examiners that they have high blood pressure. The serious results are well enough known to check it at once. High blood pressure caused by overtaxing the heart often brings on Bright's Disease, apoplexy and sudden death.

Norma reduces high blood pressure. Often one bottle will do it. Many have so testified. It is a doctor's prescription and is much used by women at the changing time of life who usually have blood pressure above normal. Ask for Norma at any druggist.

Scotch Mail Woman
Retires After Making
Remarkable Record

LONDON.—To have walked 200,000 miles—at times through flood and tempest—without ever failing to deliver the mails, is the proud record of Miss Lizzie Clay, auxiliary rural mailman of Bangor-is-y-coed, Scotland.

Seventy years of age, Miss Clay has just been retired under the age limit.

She started at a wage of $1 per week, advancing ever so slowly to $12. At the time she was retired, however, her wage had fallen to $7 owing to economic conditions.

Bangor-is-y-coed is situated in one of the wildest parts of Scotland, and Miss Clay's deliveries took her over miles of country every day.

With rice prices dropping to the lowest in several years, Japan is trying to keep shipments of the grain from Chosen out of the country.

Offering You a Substantial Saving
in Insurance Cost

The Dividend Cuts the Cost - but the Quality Remains Highest and Best

THE first endeavor of The Central is to provide the best protection that insurance experience can devise - and that should likewise be the first consideration of the policy-holder at all times. With quality of protection assured, the second consideration is cost. Central has reduced cost and, at the same time, has given even greater protection to its policy-holders by accepting only preferred risks. Where there is an excessive fire hazard, we do not accept the risk. By careful inspection and approval of risks, we have kept our loss expense low. Similar attention to management has kept operating expense at a minimum. Since in a mutual company, the earnings belong to the policy-holders, this has resulted in a substantial dividend to policy-holders - effecting a distinct

2 COST - Minimum cost at which you can buy the quality of protection you demand.

3 STABILITY - Assurance that the Company holding your policy is thoroughly established and absolutely sound.

Founded in 1876, The CENTRAL has a record of over 50 years of service, with prompt and satisfactory settlement of claims. Through a wide network of agents, it insures the cost of quality insurance. The soundness of the Company and its policies is unquestioned.

Saving of 30% on Insurance Costs

The Central Manufacturers Mutual Insurance Company is the largest and strongest Mutual Company in the United States engaged in a general fire insurance business. Measured by any test of solvency, it is thoroughly sound and dependable, and its policies are absolutely safe. In dividends alone up to January 1, 1928, it had saved its policy-holders a total of $5,294,004.00. It offers the very highest quality of insurance protection, with a definite saving of 30% in cost, to any individual or corporation whose business or property can qualify as a first-class moral and physical risk.

Our local representatives will be glad to give you further information about The Central, the quality of protection it affords, its prompt settlement of claims, and the actual saving in cost effected by its dividends. Central policies can be secured only through the accredited

Mystery at Styles

A Mystery Serial That Defies Solution

BY AGATHA CHRISTIE

"Oh, m'am! Oh, m'am! I don't know how to tell you—
"What is it, Dorcas?" I asked impatiently. "Tell us at once!"

"It's those wicked detectives. They've arrested him—they've arrested Mr. Cavendish!"

"Arrested Lawrence?" I gasped.

I saw a strange look come into Dorcas's eyes.

No, sir. Not Lawrence—Mr. John."

Behind me, with a wild cry, Mary Cavendish fell heavily against me, and as I turned to catch her I met the quiet triumph in Poirot's eyes.

CHAPTER 33.

The trial of John Cavendish for the murder of his stepmother took place two months later.

Of the intervening weeks I will say little, but my admiration and sympathy went out unsighingly to Mary Cavendish. She ranged herself passionately on her husband's side, scorning the mere idea of his guilt, and fought for him tooth and nail.

I expressed my admiration to Poirot, and he nodded thoughtfully.

"Yes, she is of those women who show at their best in adversity. It brings out all that is sweetest and truest in them. Her pride and her jealousy have—"

"Jealousy?" I queried.

"Yes. Have you not realized that she is an unusually jealous woman? As I was saying, her pride and jealousy have been laid aside. She thinks of nothing but her husband, and the terrible fate that is hanging over him."

He spoke very feelingly, and I looked at him earnestly, remembering that last afternoon, when he had been deliberating whether or not to speak. With his tenderness for a woman's happiness, I felt glad that the decision had been taken out of his hands.

"Even now," I said, "I can hardly believe it. You see, up to the very last minute, I thought it was Lawrence!"

Poirot grinned.

"I know you did."

"But John! My old friend John!"

"Every murder is probably somebody's old friend," observed Poirot philosophically. "You cannot mix up sentiment and reason."

"I must say I think you might have given me a hint."

"Perhaps, mon ami, I did not do so, just because he was your old friend."

I was rather disconcerted by this, remembering how I had busily passed on to John what I believed to be Poirot's views concerning Bauerstein. He, by the way, had been acquitted of the charge brought against him. Nevertheless, although he had been too clever for them this time, and the charge of espionage could not be brought home to him, his wings were pretty well clipped for the future.

I asked Poirot whether he thought John would be condemned. To my intense surprise, he replied that, on the contrary, he was extremely likely to be acquitted.

"But, Poirot—" I protested.

"Oh, my friend, have I not said to you all along that I have no proofs. It is one thing to know that a man is guilty, it is quite another matter to prove him so. And, in this case, there is terribly little evidence. That is the whole trouble. I, Hercule Poirot, know, but I lack the last link in my claim. And unless I can find that missing link—" He shook his head gravely.

"When did you first suspect John Cavendish?" I asked, after a minute or two.

"Did you not suspect him at all?"

"No, indeed."

"Not after that fragment of conversation you overhead between Mrs. Cavendish and her mother-in-law, and her subsequent lack of frankness at the inquest?"

"No."

"Did you not put two and two together, and reflect that it was not Alfred Inglethorpe who was quarrelling with his wife—and you remember, he strenuously denied it at the inquest—it must be either Lawrence or John. Now, if it was Lawrence, Mary Cavendish's conduct was just as inexplicable. But if, on the other hand, it was John the whole thing was explained quite naturally."

"So," I cried, a light breaking in upon me, "it was John who quarrelled with his mother that afternoon."

"Exactly."

"And you have known this all along?"

"Certainly. Mrs. Cavendish's behaviour could only be explained that way."

"And yet you say he may be acquitted?"

Poirot shrugged his shoulders.

"Certainly I do. At the police court proceedings, we shall hear the case for the prosecution, but in all probability his solicitors will advise him to reserve his defense. That will be sprung upon us at the trial. And—ah, by the way, I have a word of caution to give you, my friend. I must not appear in the case."

"What?"

"No. Officially, I have nothing to do with it. Until I have found that just link in my chain, I must remain behind the scenes. Mrs. Cavendish must think I am working for her husband, not against him."

"I say, that's playing it a bit low down," I protested.

"Not at all. We have to deal with a most clever and unscrupulous man, and we must use any means in our power—otherwise he will slip through our fingers. That is why I have been careful to remain in the background. All the discoveries have been made by Japp and Japp will take all the credit. If I am called upon to give evidence at all!" he smiled broadly—"it will probably be as a witness for the defense."

I could hardly believe my ears.

"It is quite en regle," continued Poirot. "Strangely enough, I can give evidence that will demolish one contention of the prosecution."

"Which one?"

"The one that relates to the destruction of the will. John Cavendish did not destroy that will."

Poirot was a true prophet. I will not go into the details of the police court proceedings, as it involves many tiresome repetitions. I will merely state baldly that John Cavendish deserved his defense, and was duly committed for trial.

September found us all in London. Mary took a house in Kensington. Poirot being included in the family party.

I myself had been given a job at the War Office, so was able to see them continually.

As the weeks went by, the state of Poirot's nerves grew worse and worse. That "last link" he talked about was still lacking. Privately, I hoped it might remain so, for what happiness could there be for Mary, if John were not acquitted.

On September 15th John Cavendish appeared in the dock at the Old Bailey, charged with "The Wilful Murder of Emily Agnes Inglethorpe," and pleaded "Not Guilty."

Sir Ernest Heavywether, the famous K. C., had been engaged to defend him.

Mr. Phillips, K. C., opened the case for the Crown.

The murderer, he said, was a most premeditated and cold-blooded one. It was neither more nor less than the deliberate poisoning of a fond and trusting woman by the stepson to whom she had been more than a mother. Ever since his boyhood, she had supported him. He and his wife had lived at Styles Court in every luxury, surrounded by her care and attention. She had been their kind and generous benefactress.

He proposed to call witnesses to show how the prisoner, a profligate and spendthrift, had been at the end of his financial tether, and had also been carrying on an intrigue with a certain Mrs. Ralke, a neighboring farmer's wife. This having come to his stepmother's ears, she taxed him with it on the afternoon before her death, and a quarrel ensued, part of which was overheard.

On the previous day, the prisoner had purchased trichiniae at the village chemist's shop, wearing a disguise by means of which he hoped to throw the onus of his crime upon another man—to wit, Mrs. Inglethorpe's husband, of whom he had been bitterly jealous. Luckily or Mr. Inglethorpe, he had been able to produce an unassailable alibi.

France Now Planning World Struggle For Shipping Business

PARIS.—France is now ready to strive for a large share of the world merchant marine business.

Hitherto handicapped by limited financial resources shippers will have assistance from the government to the extent of $5,000,000 for the building of vessels.

In commercial seaplanes French enterprise has more than 4,400,000 tons but nearly a fourth of this tonnage was built twenty years ago and must be replaced.

It is expected that the government credit will enable shipyards to turn out about 150,000 tons a year for five years.

Following the rapid growth of the number of automobiles in Japan several new automobile insurance companies are being formed there.

Great Britain to Put Its Telephone System
On Up to Date Basis

LONDON.—Britain, which for long has borne the unenviable reputation of being one of the worst countries in Europe telephonically, is to spend large sums in the immediate future to bring her telephone system up-to-date.

During the next three years, $125,000,000 will be expended on new apparatus, improved trunk services, new exchanges, and large extensions in the rural areas.

Provision is made in the development program for the transfer of existing manual exchanges to the automatic system.

GERMAN DOCTOR FINDS BACTERIA CANCER'S CAUSE

Noted Authority Publishes Book, Discussing Disease.

CURES PROMISED

Claims Disease is More Prevalent Among Over-fed Persons.

BERLIN.—Cancer is caused by auto-poisoning through intestinal bacteria turned virulent.

It is not caused by infection and is therefore not infectious.

Its cure consists of auto-vaccination and that which returns the virulent bacteria to their former non-virulent and even beneficial state.

This is the new doctrine propounded by Professor Dr. Eugene Bostrom, of the University of Giesen, in a book, "The Human Cancer," just published. If accepted it would entirely revolutionize the war against this deadliest of man's enemies.

Absorbed by Blood.

According to Professor Bostrom, the bacteria which are normally present in the intestines and which ordinarily fulfill a useful and necessary function, may turn poisonous because of diverse internal and external influences. These bacterial poisons are absorbed by the blood, are spread through the body, damage the blood-forming cells, pollute the blood, impair the food distribution within the body and thereby weaken the body and reduce its resistance. In time, the poisons so irritate the germinal tissues of the blood vessels that a pathological growth of new cells result, especially since poison has killed off the hormone whose task it is to guard the delicate germinal tissues against damage.

The pathological growth of new cells is then the cancer.

Professor Bostrom arrived at his conclusions following the discovery that the cancer cells themselves were dead and could not multiply and that Little Miss Anne Thomas, aged 11, daughter of John H. therefore the cancer growth must be produced by another "mother tissue." Bostrom finds this mother tissue in the germinal tissue of the blood vessels.

Over Fed People.

Professor Bostrom's doctrine also corresponds with the results of recent investigations showing that cancer is especially prevalent among the well-fed, or over-fed people.

His doctrine would also explain why his doctrine would also explain why dead cancer cell itself which is merely the final product did not lead to any result.

The cure proposed by Professor Bostrom, therefore starts with a cure of the cause. The auto-vaccination is accomplished through the introduction of germs cultures which have been cultivated and then killed off but which are still active and capable of reconverting the poisonous bacteria to their former non-poisonous state.
